It is the goal and intent of the UIC COM to invite excellent faculty to plan and lead the educational activities offered by UIC COM. Faculty selection criteria include expertise in the field of medicine to be presented, effectiveness as a speaker, and availability.

Faculty members for UIC COM activities are initially selected by the Activity Director(s), and approved by the Regional Site Committee. Faculty members may be UIC staff/faculty or individuals outside of UIC. Faculty members may be selected when new ideas and information are sought; when external perspectives are requested or required. Faculty may be provided with a stipend and travel expenses upon their request. Such stipends shall be commensurate with the work involved in planning and delivery of the activity and not exceed generally agreed upon standards. Travel expenses, meal and lodging shall be reimbursed according to established UIC travel policies.
